

PLANTER CIRC

PLANTER CIRC

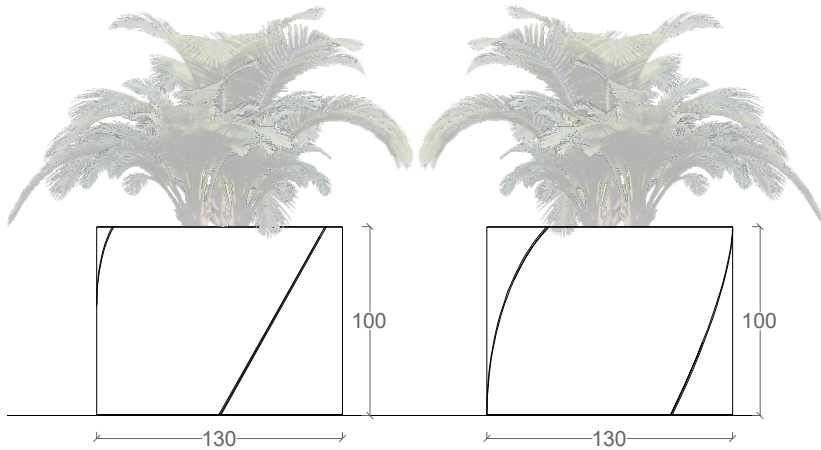

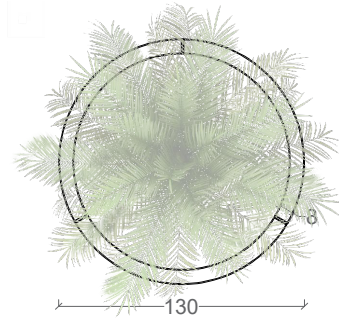

A piece of street furniture designed as a dialogue between circular form and structural fragmentation.

CIRC consists of three independent modules that, when assembled, form a single, bold, and harmonious body. This division allows each part to be manufactured in a different concrete, up to three varieties, either colored or monochromatic, creating a sense of movement and visual dynamism from any point of view.

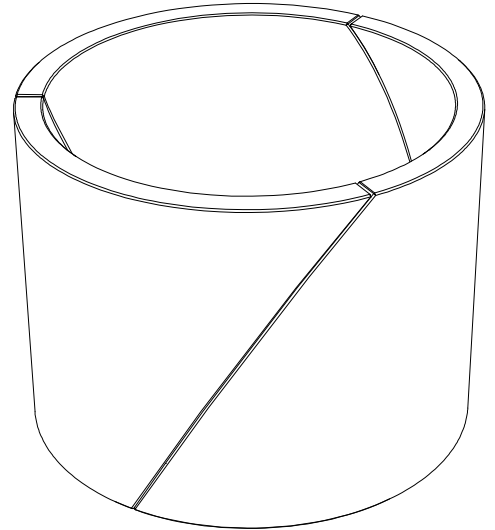

Its modular assembly system not only facilitates transport and installation, but also offers an essential advantage: it allows the planter to be integrated around existing natural elements, without altering or damaging the surrounding vegetation.

Technical specifications

CIRC is a respectful, robust, and expressive landscaping solution that combines technique and sensitivity in a pure geometry that transforms with the material.
